GM Fleet Supports Leaps and Bounds Family Services

Warren, MI, February, 2016- GM Fleet and its employees donated new children's books, contributions and their time as part of GM's Worldwide Leap Day of Caring. Over 20 employees spent the afternoon cleaning and preparing space at Leaps and Bounds for its family programs. The employees also contribute new children's books for use in the agency's home visiting programs; GM Fleet also contributed $5,000 to Leaps and Bounds Family Services in support of its Adult Education program.

“This grant will be used to insure that local community residents have access to Adult Education and GED preparation. The program includes self-directed study, instructor led small workshops and classes, GED preparation, web-based learning and volunteer tutors.” said Denise Dorsz, Executive Director, Leaps and Bounds Family Services. “Our agency focuses on family education which includes workshops on career development and job readiness for childcare professionals, early childhood development through classes for parents, parent resource rooms, early learning of children birth-age 5 through work with parents and childcare providers as well as the Adult Education program. “We are very grateful to the management and employees of Warren Michigan's GM Fleet for their generosity”
